

Fire / Smoke Damage

When you call Amerestore after fire damage, you receive a coordinated effort to control your loss and minimize your recovery costs. We'll quickly assess your fire damage problem, integrate all necessary services and quickly bring the required staff and equipment to the job site.

Amerestore does it all, from initial water removal to testing and documenting the thoroughness of the recovery. Amerestore's technicians are trained to identify the type of smoke damage and deal with it in the correct manner. The wrong approach to smoke damage restoration can make it more difficult to effect a good result and, at worse, render restoration impossible.

A rapid response can minimize the damage smoke contamination can do to many materials, enabling us to save and restore items back to their pre-disaster condition.

We provide prompt initiation of the proper procedures in order to minimize losses. By doing so we will save your insured's valuable assets, time and will possibly save the loss of irreplaceable items. Following the initial damage to your property, Amerestore quickly responds with an experienced field representative to inspect your property and record every pertinent detail. They will also conduct an interview to discuss in detail the areas to be restored. When time is of the essence, contact Amerestore .
